You owe it to yourself just now when economy is the order of the day, on account of the cessation of work, to take advantage of the opportunity afforded by our great water damage sale. Everything is actually slaughtered, profit is a secondary consideration, original cost is in many instances lost sight of. The only object being to clear out the good if low prices will do it. Many dollars can be saved that may be used for the necessities. See adv. elsewhere in this issue of partial list as included in this great sale and go before the stock becomes depleted. A. A. Smith & Brother.

Agility on the part of one or two bystanders prevented a runaway and serious disfigurement for a young woman who was driving through the city this forenoon. Near the water fountain, at the bank corner, the horse slipped on the ice and went down in a heap. Before the animal could get to his feet, bystanders jumped and held him down until the harness was loosened. Then the beast got up and, after being quieted, was re-harnessed and the young woman drove off toward East Barre. The horse has left Main street in a treacherous condition, and sleighing is practically gone.
